

Preparation before examination

Preparation on the examination day

Procedure of examination

Attention after examination

After returning back to the ward, nurses will monitor heart beat, breath, blood pressure and upper body circulation and should to be attention to:

- Keep flat-lying position and use sand bag or compression belt to pressure the wound for 6 hours.
- The patient could be able to feed water until he wakes up totally. If the patient doesn't any bad reaction after half hour Ex: puke, he could eat food normally.
- 4-6 hours after examination, the patient will urinate by himself.